This listing is for a pair of enlarged XJS XJ12 5.3 V12 throttle bodies. These are enlarged from the standard butterfly diameter of 63mm to 72mm. We do not have any technical specifications in regards to increases in performance, however these do make a noticeable difference to the sound of the car giving it a nice throaty induction noise.

These throttle bodies in the pictures have had extra vacuum pipes put in as this was for a US spec car with smog pump ect. We will build these to order for the specification of your vaccum system
